What is a refund of franking credits?

Find out what franking credits are and when they are refunded to you.

What are franking credits?

When you own shares or non-share equity interests in a company or when you invest in a managed fund, you might receive dividend distributions.

Dividends paid to you by Australian companies and some New Zealand companies are taxed under a system known as imputation. The tax paid by the company is allocated (or imputed) to you as franking credits attached to the dividends you receive.

When are franking credits refunded to you?

You can claim a tax refund if the franking credits you receive exceed the tax you have to pay. This is a refund of excess franking credits.

You may receive a refund of the full amount of franking credits received even if you don't usually lodge a tax return.

You can fill in the application yourself following the simple step-by-step instructions. If you need extra help contact our Tax Help service. If you are not familiar with some of the terms used, see Definitions.

Can you use this application for refund of franking credits?

All the criteria must apply for you to be able to use this application. All the statements below relate to the income year 1 July 2021 – 30 June 2022.

Criteria required to use this application for a refund of franking credits:

- You do not have to lodge a tax return (see Do you need to lodge a tax return?).
- You were an Australian resident for tax purposes for the whole of 2021–22 (see Item 2 Were you an Australian resident for the whole period of 1 July 2021 – 30 June 2022).
- You are not claiming a refund of franking credits for a deceased estate.
- Your total dividend income was
 - $18,200 or less, or
 - $416 or less if you were under 18 years old on 30 June 2022.
- You received dividends from shares (or non-share equity interests) in an Australian or New Zealand company or you were entitled to distributions from investments in a managed fund.
- Your dividend or distribution statement showed franking credits, or you had amounts withheld from your dividends because you did not provide your tax file number (TFN). Statements from New Zealand companies must show Australian franking credits (New Zealand imputation credits do not qualify).

You will need to lodge a tax return to claim the benefit of these credits if you have franking credits but all the criteria above did not apply

Frequently asked questions

26 May 2022

Common questions asked about franking credits and franking credit refunds.

Can I claim franking credits from previous years?

It is not too late to claim a refund of franking credits you received in previous income years. If you have not already claimed these credits you can order a Refund of franking credits application and instructions (NAT 4105) for the relevant years, see Order ATO publications. You can only lodge these refund applications for previous years by post.

Do I need to send my dividend or distribution statements to the ATO?

No, instead you should keep your statements with a copy of your application.

According to my final dividend statement for the year ended 30 June 2022, my final dividend payment was made after 30 June 2022. The statement also shows a franking credit. In what year do I claim the franking credit?

You claim a refund of the franking credits (and declare the dividend as income) in the year in which the final dividend was paid or credited, as shown in the statement (regardless of the year the statement relates to).

The distribution statement from my managed fund shows capital gains, foreign source income and foreign income tax offsets. Where do I include those amounts?

If you don't need to lodge a tax return, don't worry about these amounts even if your statement tells you to include them at a specific item on the tax return. To process your application, we need only the figures shown at 'franked amounts', 'unfranked amounts', 'franking credit' or 'TFN amounts withheld'.

The distribution statement shows an unfranked dividend declared to be conduit foreign income. Where do I include this amount?

Show this amount on your application as an unfranked amount.

Can I use this application to claim a refund for TFN amounts withheld or deducted from interest income?

No, you will need to lodge an income tax return to claim the TFN amounts withheld or deducted from interest income.

I chose to reinvest my dividends. Can I still claim a refund of my franking credits?

Yes.

Can I use this application if I own shares or non-share equity interests in joint names with my spouse?

Yes, if you are eligible you can use this application, stating only your share of the dividends and franking credits shown on the joint statement. If your spouse is also eligible to claim a refund of franking credits, they must complete a separate application or lodge a tax return. They should state only their share of the dividends and franking credits shown on the joint statement.

Will the refund affect my pension entitlement?

No, in most cases it will not affect your pension entitlement. However, if you receive a distribution from a private company or trust the refund could affect your pension entitlement.

I own shares in a New Zealand company. Am I entitled to claim all the franking credits in the dividend statement?

Not all New Zealand companies will pay dividends with Australian franking credits. You can only claim a refund of the Australian franking credits on the dividend.

You cannot claim a refund of any New Zealand imputation credits.

If you have paid New Zealand non-resident withholding tax on the dividend, the amount of franking credits that you can claim is reduced by any supplementary dividend.

My dividend statement from a New Zealand company includes a supplementary dividend. Where should I include this amount?

Include this amount as an unfranked dividend. No franking credits are attached to supplementary dividends.

Instructions for the worksheet

26 May 2022

Use the worksheet and step-by-step instructions to help you work out the amounts to report at item 10.

If you have more than one dividend or distribution statement, follow these steps to fill in the worksheet and calculate the amounts to show at item 10 on your application.

For more information, see Refund of franking credit for individuals worksheet.

Step 1: Collect all your dividend and distribution statements

Collect all the statements for dividends you received and for distributions you were entitled to for the period 1 July 2021 to 30 June 2022. Using steps 2 to 4, transfer the information from each statement to the appropriate columns in the worksheet.

Step 2: Company or fund name

Print the company or fund name shown on your statement under Company or fund.

Step 3: Unfranked, franked and franking credit amounts

Write the amount of any unfranked (or supplementary), franked or franking credit amounts in the appropriate columns.

You must subtract the amount of any supplementary dividend from the amount of franking credits that you include in the worksheet if:

- your dividend is from a New Zealand company, and
- that company paid you a supplementary dividend, and
- you paid New Zealand non-resident withholding tax on that dividend.

Do not include New Zealand imputation credits in the Franking credit column (only include Australian franking credits).

If your statement does not show the franked and unfranked portions of the dividend, include the total dividend amount in the Franked amount column.

Step 4: TFN amounts withheld

Write any TFN amounts withheld (or deducted) from dividends in the TFN amount withheld column.

Step 5: Total the amounts in columns 2, 3, 4 and 5

The worksheet will automatically provide a total for the amounts you have entered in each column.

Step 6: Complete item 10

Print X at the YES box at item 10 on your application, if you have received:

- any dividend distributions from a managed fund, or
- Australian franking credits from a dividend paid by a New Zealand company.
- Step 7: Transfer total at columns 2, 3 and 4 to item 10

Step 7: Transfer total at columns 2, 3 and 4 to item 10

Transfer the total amounts of unfranked amount, franked amount and franking credit from your worksheet to S, T and U at item 10 on your application. Do not show cents.

Step 8 Transfer total at column 5 to item 10

Transfer the total TFN amount withheld amount from your worksheet to V at item 10 on your application. Show cents.

Worksheet – Refund of franking credits for individuals

You can access an Excel version of the Refund of franking credit for individuals worksheet  (XLSX 25KB). This worksheet will help you if you have more than one dividend or distribution statement.

Transfer the totals for S, T and U to your application. Do not show cents.

Transfer the total for V to your application. Show cents.

This worksheet is to help you work out the amounts you need to put on your application. You do not need to send this worksheet to us.

Example

Steven received a dividend statement from Teleco Ltd. His statement showed a franked amount of $42.00 and a franking credit of $18.00.

The statement below is just an example. There are many different formats of statements.

Steven also received three other statements:

JT Corporate Unit Trust Steven's dividend statement showed $120.73 unfranked amount.

Koles Bier Pty Ltd Steven did not give the company his TFN so his entitlement of $180 unfranked amount had $84.60 tax withheld (therefore he actually received $95.40).

SDW Managed Investment Fund Steven's distribution statement showed a franked dividend amount of $131 and a franking credit of $56.14.

Company or fund	Unfranked amount (S) $	Franked amount (T) $	Franking credit (U) $	TFN amount withheld (V) $
Teleco Ltd	-	42.00	18.00	-
JT Corp Unit Trust	120.73	-	-	-
Koles Bier Pty Ltd	180.00	-	-	84.60
SDW Fund	-	131.00	56.14	-
Total	300.73	173.00	74.14	84.60

Transfer the totals for S, T and U to your application. Do not show cents.

Transfer the total for V to your application. Show cents.

This amount includes both the amount received by Steven and the TFN amount withheld ($95.40 + $84.60).

Steven completes the dividend details at item 10 on his application like this:

 10 Dividends If you have more than one dividend or distribution statement, see pages 3-5 in the instructions. Did you receive any dividend distributions from a managed fund or Australian franking credits from a New Zealand company? (See page 3 in the instructions). Yes Label S Unfranked amount: $300 Label T Franked amount: $173 Label U Franking credit: $74 Label V Tax file number amounts withheld from dividends: $84.60

Steven will receive a refund of $158.60 if he has no outstanding tax debts.

TFN amount withheld + Franking credit = Refund

$84.60 + $74 = $158.60

Information to help you understand terms we use in the application for refund of franking credits instructions.

Conduit foreign income

Australian corporate entities (companies, trusts or partnerships taxed as companies) with certain types of foreign income can declare all or part of an unfranked dividend as conduit foreign income. Show any conduit foreign income as an unfranked dividend on your application.

Distribution statement

Managed funds or unit trusts send a distribution statement, AMMA statement or taxation statement to investors. The statement might include unfranked dividends, franked dividends, TFN amounts withheld and franking credits.

Dividend income

If you own shares in a company, you will generally be paid some of the company's profits as a dividend.

Dividend statement

Companies send a dividend statement to shareholders and holders of non-share equity interests to advise them of the amount of dividends paid to them. It also advises whether the dividends are franked or unfranked, the amount of franking credit, and TFN amounts withheld (if any).

Franked dividend

Franked dividends are paid to shareholders and holders of non-share equity interests out of profits on which the company has already paid tax.

Franking credit

A franking credit is your share of tax paid by a company on the profits from which your dividends or distributions are paid. A franking credit is also known as an:

- imputation credit
- imputed tax credit

- Class C imputed credit

- Australian franking credit, or
- Australian imputed tax credit.

Imputation credit

See Franking credit.

Managed fund

A managed fund is generally run by an organisation that manages investors' money through a diversified portfolio for a fee. Managed funds might include investment in any or all the major asset groups such as cash, bonds, shares and property.

New Zealand imputation credit

New Zealand imputation credits are credits arising under New Zealand's imputation system. Australian imputation credits are now called franking credits.

We cannot refund your imputation credits. We will refund Australian franking credits attached to dividends you receive from a New Zealand company.

Non-share equity interest

Certain interests which are not shares are treated in a similar way to shares for tax law purposes. These interests are called non-share equity interests.

Supplementary dividend

Supplementary dividends from New Zealand companies are treated the same as unfranked dividends.

Tax file number (TFN) amount withheld

'TFN amounts withheld' are amounts withheld or deducted by the company or managed fund because you did not give them your TFN.

Total dividend income

Total dividend income is the total of your unfranked dividends, franked dividends and franking credits.

Unfranked dividend

Unfranked dividends have had no Australian company tax paid on the profits from which they are paid. If the dividend is unfranked, there is no franking credit.
