Be assured that if you do your best to fill in your short tax return correctly, you will not be subject to any penalties if you get these things wrong.

Nevertheless, please take care in ensuring that the information you provide to us is as complete and accurate as you can make it.

If you have access to the internet, you can prepare and lodge your tax return online using e-tax. It's fast, free and easy, and most refunds are issued within 14 days. It also provides more extensive information than contained in this guide and allows you to automatically include on your tax return some information that we already know about you.

WHAT'S NEW THIS YEAR?

NATURAL DISASTER DONATIONS RECEIPTS

If you made one or more donations of $2 or more to bucket collections conducted by an approved organisation for natural disasters such as the floods in Queensland, New South Wales and Victoria, bushfires in Western Australia, Cyclone Yasi in Queensland, and the earthquakes in Christchurch and north-eastern Japan, you can claim a tax deduction of up to $10 for the total of those contributions without having a receipt.

If you used the web or phone to make a donation over $2, your web receipt or credit card statement is sufficient. If you donated through third parties, such as banks and retail outlets, the receipt they gave you is also sufficient. If you contributed through 'workplace-giving' your payment summary shows the amount you donated. Question 28 deals with donations.

TAX EXEMPTION FOR CERTAIN PAYMENTS

The Government has introduced legislation to grant tax exemption for certain payments made following recent natural disasters. The following payments will be exempt from tax:

- disaster income recovery subsidy paid for Cyclone Yasi and the flooding events which started on 29 November 2010
- ex-gratia payments from the Commonwealth paid to New Zealand non-protected special-category visa holders following an Australian natural disaster in the 2010–11 income year
- clean-up and recovery grants paid to small business and primary producers (under category C of the Natural Disaster Relief and Recovery Arrangements) for:
 - flooding which started on 29 November 2010, and
 - Cyclone Yasi.

At the time of printing, this legislation had not yet become law. For more information go to www.ato.gov.au

DO YOU NEED TO LODGE A TAX RETURN?

If any of the following applies to you then you must lodge a tax return.

REASON 1

You were eligible for the senior Australians tax offset (see pages 31–2) and your 'rebate income' (not including your spouse's) was more than:

- $30,685 if you were single, widowed or separated at any time during the year

See page 31 to work out your 'rebate income' or use the calculator at www.ato.gov.au

REASON 3

- $3,334 if you were under 18 years old at 30 June 2011 and your income was not salary or wages
- $1 if you were a non-resident and you had income taxable in Australia which did not have non-resident withholding tax withheld from it, or

OTHER REASONS

You must lodge a tax return if any of the following applied to you:

- You had a reportable fringe benefits amount on your PAYG payment summary – individual non-business or PAYG payment summary – foreign employment.
- You had reportable employer superannuation contributions on your PAYG payment summary individual non-business or PAYG payment summary foreign employment or PAYG payment summary business and personal services income.

- You received income from dividends or distributions exceeding $6,000 (or $416 if you were under 18 years old on 30 June 2011) and you had:
 - franking credits attached, or
 - amounts withheld because you did not quote your tax file number or Australian business number to the investment body.
- You made personal contributions to a complying superannuation fund or retirement savings account and will be eligible to receive a super co-contribution for these contributions.
- You were either a liable parent or a recipient parent under a child support assessment. If this applies to you, you cannot use the short tax return.

Deceased estate

If you are looking after the estate of someone who died during 2010–11, consider all the above reasons on their behalf, and if a tax return is not required complete Non-lodgment advice 2011 on page 6 and send it to us. If a tax return is required, see page 7 for more information.

Franking credits

If you don't need to lodge a tax return for 2010–11, you can claim a refund of franking credits by using the publication Refund of franking credits instructions and application for individuals 2011 (NAT 4105) and lodging your claim by mail or phone 13 28 65.

However, you cannot lodge it by phone if you are also lodging an application for education tax refund. In that case you must send all your claims to us together in one envelope, or you could use e-tax.

Education tax refund

If you don't need to lodge a tax return for 2010–11, you can claim your education tax refund by completing the application Education tax refund for individuals 2011 (NAT 72621) and lodging it by mail or phone 13 28 65.

However, you cannot lodge it by phone if you are also lodging an application for a refund of franking credits. In that case you must send all your claims to us together in one envelope, or you could use e-tax.

First home saver account

If you had a first home saver account in 2010–11 and believe you are entitled to a first home saver account government contribution, you must lodge either:

- a tax return, or
- a notification of eligibility (if you are not required to lodge a tax return) and you were an Australian resident for at least part of 2010–11. You can find this form on our website at www.firsthomesaver.gov.au

If you have read all the above information and know that you do not have to lodge a tax return, you should complete the non-lodgment advice on page 6 and send it to us unless one of the following applies to you:

OTHER WAYS TO PREPARE YOUR TAX RETURN

If you cannot use the Short tax return for individuals 2011 because the questions do not cover all of your tax affairs, you need to complete the Tax return for individuals 2011 using either:

- e-tax (download e-tax at www.ato.gov.au) and you can lodge online for a speedier refund, or
- TaxPack 2011, and you may need TaxPack 2011 supplement.

From 1 July to 31 October 2011 you can get copies of TaxPack 2011 and TaxPack 2011 supplement from most newsagents. Copies are also available from our Publications Distribution Service on 1300 720 092 and from ATO shopfronts all year.

KEEPING RECORDS

You need to keep records:

- to provide written evidence of your income and expenses
- to help you or your tax agent prepare your tax return
- to ensure that you are able to claim all your entitlements, and
- in case we ask you to prove the information you provided on your tax return.

Generally you should keep most of your written evidence for five years from 31 October 2011 or the date you lodge your tax return, whichever is later. Specific record-keeping requirements for particular types of records appear in the specific questions in Short tax return instructions 2011. If you are in dispute with the ATO, you must keep your records until the dispute is settled, if this is later.

If you qualify as an individual with simple tax affairs under the Shortened Document Retention Periods (Individuals with Simple Tax Affairs) Determination 2006 (SDR 2006/1), you need to keep your payment summaries for only two years. To check whether you qualify for this shorter record-keeping period, go to our website at www.ato.gov.au

IF YOU MADE A MISTAKE OR NEED TO AMEND YOUR TAX RETURN

If you realise that you did not include something on your tax return that you should have, or you made a mistake, you need to correct it as soon as possible by requesting an amendment.

You can request an amendment by completing the Request for amendment of income tax return for individuals form. This form is available from the ATO website at www.ato.gov.au under 'Fix a problem', then 'Correct a mistake in your tax return'.

Alternatively, you can write a letter to us. In the letter, provide:

- your name, address, phone number and tax file number
- the year shown on the tax return you wish to amend, for example, 2011
- the tax return item number and description affected by the change
- the amount of income or deductions to be added or taken away, if relevant
- the amount of tax offsets to be increased or decreased, if relevant
- the relevant claim type code, if applicable to the item you are changing
- an explanation of why you made the mistake
- any additional information, if applicable, to the item being changed, and
- a signed and dated declaration, 'I declare that all the information I have given in this letter, including any attachments, is true and correct'.

It is very important that your letter explains why you made the mistake or the reason for the change, so that we can correctly assess any penalty or interest charge.

Post your letter and attachments to:

Australian Taxation Office GPO Box 3004 Penrith NSW 2740

Keep a copy for your records.

Do not send another tax return unless we ask you to.

If, after lodging your tax return, you voluntarily tell us that you made a mistake and an amendment will result in you paying more tax, the amount of penalty that may otherwise have been imposed will, in most cases, be reduced. In most cases you must lodge your request for an amendment within two years of the date the Commissioner issued your notice of assessment.

OTHER AMOUNTS THAT YOU DO NOT PAY TAX ON

You do not pay tax on most child support and spouse maintenance payments.

Are you eligible to use the Short tax return for individuals 2011?

You will need to read the loose leaf cover to the Short tax return for individuals 2011 to see if you can use the short tax return.

For information on other ways to prepare your tax return, see page 7.

QUESTION 2

Your tax file number (TFN)

WHAT YOU MUST DO

Write your TFN in the nine boxes provided at item 2 on your short tax return.

To get the full benefit of the new superannuation rules, make sure all your superannuation funds have your TFN.

QUESTION 3

Are you an Australian resident?

'Australian resident' for tax purposes is not the same as for immigration or social security purposes.

You are an Australian resident for tax purposes if:

- you live here permanently
- vou have been in Australia for more than half of 2010-11, unless your usual home is overseas and you do not intend to live in Australia, or
- you are an overseas student studying a course in Australia that is more than six months long.

If you go overseas temporarily and do not set up a permanent home in another country, you are still an Australian resident for tax purposes.

If you have been in Australia continuously for six months or more, and for most of that time you worked in the one job and lived at the same place, you are generally an Australian resident for tax purposes. If in doubt, go to www.ato.gov.au or phone 13 28 61.

STOP

If you are not an Australian resident for tax purposes for all of 2010-11, you cannot use the short tax return. For information on other ways to prepare your tax return, see page 7.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

Print X in the Yes box at item 3 on your tax return if you are an Australian resident for tax purposes for all of 2010-11.

QUESTIONS 4-9

Your personal details

Carefully complete the personal information questions on page 1 of your short tax return. These include questions about your name, address, date of birth, and contact phone number.

If your name or postal address has changed since you last notified us and you want to lodge by phone, you need to update these details before you lodge your 2011 tax return by phone. To update your name or postal address, phone 13 28 61.

QUESTION 10

Your spouse's name

If you had a spouse (married or de facto) at any time in 2010–11, write their name here. See the definition of spouse on page 49.

This applies even if you no longer live with that person or they have since died.

If you had more than one spouse in 2010–11, give the name of your last spouse in 2010–11.

If you did not have a spouse at any time in 2010–11, you do not need to complete this item.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

Write the full name of your spouse at item 10 on your short tax return.

QUESTION 11

Will you need to lodge an Australian tax return in the future?

There are no instructions for this item. See your tax return.

QUESTION 12

Paying your refund directly into your financial institution account

Electronic funds transfer (EFT) – Direct refund

It's faster and simpler to have your refund paid directly to your financial institution account. Complete your account details even if you have provided them previously. Otherwise we will mail your refund cheque.

Complete the following:

- Print the bank state branch (BSB) number. This six-digit number identifies the financial institution. Do not include spaces, dashes or hyphens in the number.
- Print the account number. You cannot use an account number with more than nine characters. Do not include spaces in the account number.
- Print the account name, as shown on your account records. Do not print the account type (for example savings, cheque or mortgage offset). Include spaces between each word and between initials in the account name.

Main salary and wage occupation

This question is about:

your occupation with your main employer in 2010-11.

If you had more than one job, your 'main employer' is the one who paid you the most in 2010–11.

If you did not have a job in 2010–11 leave this item blank.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

Print your main salary and wage occupation at item 13 on your short tax return.

QUESTION 14

Salary and wages

This question is about:

income you received in 2010-11 from:

- salary
- wages
- commissions
- bonuses
- parental leave pay
- payments for lost salary or wages paid under an accident or insurance policy or workers compensation scheme.

This question is NOT about:

- employment allowances
- payments you received for services (for which you did not receive a payment summary)
- Centrelink, Veterans' Affairs or other Australian Government payments
- income from an Australian annuity or superannuation income stream
- amounts paid from a Community Development Employment Project (CDEP).

You will be asked about these in later questions.

WHAT YOU NEED

Your payment summary from each employer.

The gross payments shown on your payment summary include any parental leave paid to you.

If you did not receive a payment summary or it has been lost, ask your employer for a copy or a statement of details.

If you cannot get any of these documents, you must complete a statutory declaration (available from the ATO) and retain it with your tax records.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

Use the information on each payment summary.

At item 14, for each payment summary or payer, write:

- the employer's Australian business number (ABN) or withholding payer number (WPN)
- the tax withheld amount (may be shown as 'tax instalments deducted') in the Tax withheld column
- the income amount in the Income column.

If you had more than five payment summaries, use the fifth row to provide the total tax withheld and total income for the fifth and subsequent documents (leave the employer's ABN blank).

Do not attach your payment summaries to your tax return. Keep them with your tax records.

KEEP YOUR RECORDS.

You need to keep your payment summaries for five years after the end of the income year unless the Commissioner has determined that you are subject to a shorter retention period in which case the period is two years from the date of the assessment for the income year. See Keeping records on page 7 for more information.

QUESTION 15

Employment allowances you received

This question is about:

income you received in 2010-11 from employment allowances.

Types of employment allowances include:

- car
- tools
- clothing or laundry
- dirt, height, site or risk
- meal or entertainment.

If an allowance is shown separately on your payment summary, it must be included here.

Allowances not shown on your payment summary

You do not need to show bona fide overtime meal allowances paid under an industrial law, award or agreement of $25.80 or less per meal which are not shown on your payment summary if:

- vou have fully spent the allowance on overtime meals.
- vou do not claim a deduction for overtime meal expenses at item 26.

If you received any other employment allowances which were not shown on your payment summary (either separately or as part of your salary and wages), you must include them here.

14 SHORT TAX RETURN INSTRUCTIONS 2011 www.ato.gov.au

This question is NOT about:

- allowances which have been included as part of your salary and wages at item 14
- tips; show these at item 22
- work-related deductions; you can claim these later at items 24, 25 and 26
- travel or transport allowances (other than car).

If you received travel or transport allowances you cannot use the short tax return.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Using the information on your payment summaries and other statements:

- add up any tax withheld amounts relating to the allowances (do not include any tax withheld which you showed at item 14)
- add up the allowances.

STEP 2

Write the totals at item 15 in the Tax withheld column and the Income column on your short tax return.

Keep all the original payment summaries with your tax records. Do not attach them to your tax return.

QUESTION 16

- Newstart allowance
- Youth Allowance
- Austudy payment
- parenting payment (partnered)
- partner allowance
- sickness allowance
- special benefit
- widow allowance

- other taxable Commonwealth education or training payments
- an income support component from a Community Development Employment Project (CDEP), shown as 'Community Development Employment Projects (CDEP) payments' on your PAYG payment summary – individual non-business
- a CDEP scheme participant supplement.

This question is NOT about:

- any taxable Australian Government payments other than those listed on page 15: you will be asked about these in the next question
- parental leave payments; show these at item 14 Salary and wages.

Australian Government payments which are exempt from tax are listed under Amounts you do not pay tax on on pages 8–10.

If you received an emergency and general assistance payment or transitional income support payment you cannot use the short tax return. These payments are shown at item 24 Other income on the Tax return for individuals (supplementary section) 2011.

WHAT YOU NEED

Your payment summary for each payment period, or a letter from the paying agency stating the amount you received

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Using the information on your payment summaries and agency letters:

- add up the income amounts.

STEP 2

Write the totals at item 16 in the Tax withheld column and the Income column on your short tax return.

- bereavement allowance.

This question is NOT about:

- any Australian Government payments mentioned in question 16 on the previous page, or the tax-exempt payments listed under Exempt Australian government pensions, allowances and payments on page 8
- an Australian annuity or superannuation income stream; you will be asked about these in the next question.

WHAT YOU NEED

Your payment summary for each payment, or a letter from the paying agency stating the amount you received

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Using the information on your payment summaries and agency letters:

- add up the tax withheld amounts
- add up the income amounts.

STEP 2

Write the totals at item 17 in the Tax withheld and Income columns on your short tax return.

NOTE

You may be entitled to a tax offset on this income. Tax offsets reduce the amount of tax you have to pay.

You must work through question 33 (senior Australians tax offset) and question 34 (pensioner tax offset) to see if you can claim a tax offset. We work out your tax offset based on the tax offset code and veteran code (if applicable) that you write on your short tax return.

If you do not print the correct code letters on your short tax return, you may not receive your correct entitlement.

Keep all the original payment summaries with your tax records. Do not attach them to your tax return.

QUESTION 18

Australian annuities and superannuation income streams

This question is about:

income you received in 2010-11 from:

- annuities (also known as non-superannuation annuities) paid to you by Australian life insurance companies or friendly societies
- superannuation income streams paid to you by Australian
 - superannuation funds
 - life insurance companies
 - retirement savings account (RSA) providers.

The taxed element of a superannuation income stream received when or after you turn 60 years old is tax-free; you do not show it anywhere on your tax return.

Show at this item the taxed element of a superannuation income stream that you received before you turned 60 years old. You should have received a PAYG payment summary – superannuation income stream showing the taxed element amount.

Show at this item the untaxed element of a superannuation income stream regardless of your age. You should have received a PAYG payment summary – superannuation income stream showing the untaxed element amount.

This question is NOT about:

- the taxed elements of superannuation income streams received on or after your 60th birthday (these amounts are tax-free and not included in your taxable income)
- the taxed element of a superannuation income stream paid to you as a result of the death of another person who died aged 60 years old or older (these amounts are tax-free and not included in your taxable income)
- age, service and other Australian Government pensions or allowances (these are dealt with at question 17)
- the tax-free component of your superannuation income stream
- reportable employer superannuation contributions (these are dealt with at question 45).

WHAT YOU NEED

- A PAYG payment summary superannuation income stream or a statement from the payer of your superannuation income stream
- A PAYG payment summary individual non-business or a statement from the payer of your non-superannuation annuity

If you have not received your payment summary or statement, or you have lost it, contact your payer.

You may not have received a PAYG payment summary – superannuation income stream because your entire superannuation income stream was tax-free. For example, you may not have received a payment summary if in 2010–11 your superannuation income stream contained only taxed elements received on or after you turned 60 years old.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1 - Tax withheld

Add up all the tax withheld amounts on all your payment summaries and statements from your:

- Australian superannuation income streams, and
- Australian non-superannuation annuities.

Write the total amount in the Tax withheld column at item 18 on your short tax return.

STEP 2 – Australian superannuation income streams

Work out the total amounts of taxed and untaxed elements of your Australian superannuation income streams. Your PAYG payment summary – superannuation income stream shows the taxed and untaxed elements of the taxable component of your benefit.

- Write the total of the taxed element amounts at J item 18 on your short tax return.
- Write the total of the untaxed element amounts at (a) in worksheet 1.

STEP 3 - Australian non-superannuation annuities

If you received payments of Australian non-superannuation annuities, you need to work out the relevant assessable amount.

The assessable amount is calculated by subtracting the deductible amount of the undeducted purchase price (UPP) of your annuity from the gross amount of the annuity shown on your PAYG payment summary – individual non-business.

Your annuity may have a UPP if:

- you bought the annuity with your own capital, or
- the annuity reverted to you on the death of another person.

The UPP is that part of the annuity payment made to you that represents the part of the purchase price which you could not claim as a tax deduction in previous years.

The deductible amount of the UPP of your annuity is usually calculated by taking the residual capital value away from the purchase price and dividing the result by either:

- the term of the annuity (where the annuity is payable for a fixed term of years), or
- a life expectancy factor determined according to life expectancy statistics (where the annuity is payable during your lifetime).

You may have received a statement from your payer showing the deductible amount of the undeducted purchase price of your annuity. If you do not have details of the deductible amount, contact your payer for assistance. If your payer cannot tell you, phone 13 10 20.

Add up all the assessable amounts of your Australian non-superannuation annuities.

Write the total of the assessable amounts of your Australian non-superannuation annuities at (b) in worksheet 1.

NOTE

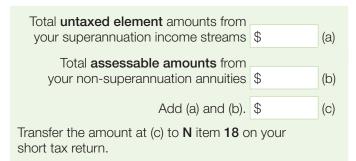

If you have taken any part of your annuity as a lump sum, or if there are changes to your annuity, for example, due to commutation, divorce or remarriage, then the deductible amount of your UPP may need to be recalculated.

The deductible amount of your UPP cannot be more than the amount of the annuity you have received in the income year; that is, the amount at (b) in worksheet 1 cannot be less than zero. This means that you cannot use any excess of the deductible amount to reduce any income you have received from an Australian superannuation income stream benefit.

STEP 4

Add (a) and (b) in worksheet 1, and transfer the amount at (c) to $\bf N$ item $\bf 18$ on your short tax return.

WORKSHEET 1: Working out the total of untaxed elements and assessable amounts

NOTE

You may be entitled to a tax offset for your Australian superannuation income stream. Read question 35 on page 34 to find out more about it.

This tax offset does not apply to non-superannuation annuities.

Keep all of your original payment summaries with your taxation records. Do not attach them to your tax return.

QUESTION 19

TOTAL TAX WITHHELD

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Check that you have shown all the tax withheld from the income you received.

STEP 2

Add up all the tax withheld amounts, and write the total at item 19 on your short tax return.

Interest

This question is about:

interest you received in 2010-11 from Australian financial institutions (such as banks and credit unions) or other sources within Australia.

This includes interest from:

- savings accounts
- term deposits
- cash management accounts
- accounts you shared with another person (such as your spouse)
- children's accounts if the funds belonged to you, or you spent or used the funds as if they belonged to vou.

It also includes interest which we credited or paid to you.

Do not show at this item, or anywhere else on your tax return, any interest you earned on a first home saver account you hold. That interest is non-assessable, non-exempt income, that is, tax-free income.

This question is NOT about:

- dividends (you show these at the next question)
- interest from a partnership or trust
- interest from a cash management trust or similar trust investment product.

If you received interest from a partnership or trust, you cannot use the short tax return.

If you had tax file number (TFN) amounts withheld on interest because you did not provide your TFN, you cannot use the short tax return.

WHAT YOU NEED

- Your statement or similar document for each account
- Notices of assessment you received from us during 2010-11 showing interest on early payments or overpayments

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Using the information on your financial documents, add up the amounts of interest.

For shared accounts, only include your share of the interest.

NOTE

Do not deduct account-keeping fees and charges from your gross interest amount. You may be able to claim these at item 27 (Bank account fees).

STEP 2

Write the total at item 20 on your short tax return.

Dividends from shares

This question is about:

dividends you received in 2010–11 from shares in Australian companies (but not from managed funds). These include:

- dividends paid directly to you
- dividends applied under a dividend reinvestment plan
- bonus shares which qualify as dividends.

A dividend is assessable income in the year it was paid or credited to you (even if it relates to a previous year).

This question is NOT about:

- dividends paid by a partnership, trust, managed fund or cash management trust
- dividends from a New Zealand company that have Australian franking credits attached.

You cannot use the short tax return if you had:

- more than $5,000 of franking credits
- tax file number (TFN) amounts withheld on dividends because you did not provide your TFN
- dividends paid by a partnership, trust, managed fund or cash management trust
- dividends from a New Zealand company that have Australian franking credits attached
- payments, loans or forgiven debts from a private company that are treated as dividends.

WHAT YOU NEED

Your dividend statement from each payer

Your statement should show:

- unfranked amount
- franked amount
- franking credit.

Your dividend statement may state that all or a part of an unfranked amount is paid out of 'conduit foreign' income. Include any unfranked amount paid out of conduit foreign income with all other unfranked amounts.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Using the information on your statements:

- add up all the unfranked amounts
- add up all the franked amounts
- add up all the franking credits.

If your dividend statement does not show the franked and unfranked portions of the dividend, show the total dividend amount as a franked amount.

STEP 2

Write the totals at item 21 on your short tax return.

Small payments you received for your services (totalling less than $5,000)

This question is about:

small payments you received for your services in 2010–11 (which were not part of your normal salary and wages shown at item 14), such as:

- tips
- jury service (which you did not pay back to your employer)
- participation in market research
- book-keeping and secretarial work
- delivering newspapers and advertising brochures
- voluntary services.

The total income from these payments must be less than $5,000.

STOP

If the total is $5,000 or more, you cannot use the short tax return.

If you include income at this item, you may be able to claim deductions for associated work-related expenses at later items.

This question is NOT about:

payments you received that:

- had tax withheld (show these at item 14)
- relate to a hobby (these payments are not taxed)
- reimburse expenses and are not income (for example, travel allowance paid to jurors)
- relate to a business you run.

STOP

If you run a business, you cannot use the short tax return.

If you are not sure whether you should include a particular payment you received, phone 13 28 61.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

Write the total of the payments you received for services at item 22 on your short tax return.

QUESTION 23

TOTAL INCOME

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Check that you have shown all the income you received.

STEP 2

Add up all income amounts and write the total at item 23 on your short tax return.

Work-related car expenses (cents per kilometre method)

This question is about:

work-related expenses you incurred as an employee for a car you:

- owned (even if it is not registered in your name)
- leased (even if it is not registered in your name), or
- hired under a hire-purchase agreement

You must use only the cents per kilometre method to calculate your deductions for these expenses.

If you wish to claim using the 12% of original value method, the one-third of actual expenses method or the logbook method, you cannot use the short tax return. See page 7 for other ways to prepare your tax return.

If you received an allowance from your employer for the use of your car for work-related purposes (the amount is usually shown on your payment summary), make sure you have included the allowance at item 15.

What can you claim?

You can claim for the kilometres you travelled for work-related purposes in 2010–11.

The most you can claim using the cents per kilometre method is 5,000 kilometres, even if you travelled more.

You can claim the cost of using your car to travel directly between two separate places of employment, for example, when you have a second job.

You cannot claim for the normal trip between home and work, unless:

- your car carries bulky tools or equipment (such as an extension ladder or cello) which you use for work and cannot leave at work
- your home is a base for employment (you start work at home and travel to continue work at another place) or
- you have shifting places of employment (you regularly work at more than one place each day).

WHAT YOU MUST HAVE

No written evidence of expenses is necessary, but you may need to be able to show how you worked out your work-related kilometres (for example, by producing odometer records).

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Use the following table to find out how much you can claim per kilometre (km) depending on your car's engine.

Ordinary engine	Rotary engine	Cents per km
1,600cc or less	800cc or less	63 cents
1,601-2,600cc	801-1,300cc	74 cents
2,601cc and over	1,301cc and over	75 cents

STEP 2

Use the following table to work out the amount you can claim:

Total work-related kilometres (cannot be more than 5,000 km)	(a)
Cents per km for your car's engine (63, 74 or 75 cents)	(b)
Multiply (a) by (b).	(C)
Divide (c) by 100.	$ (d)

The amount at (d) is the dollar amount you can claim. Write this amount at item 24 on your short tax return.

EXAMPLE

You used your car to travel 1,000 kilometres for work-related purposes. Your car has a 1,600cc engine, therefore you can claim 63 cents per kilometre.

The amount you can claim is: $(1,000 \times 63) \div 100 = 630

Work-related clothing expenses

This question is about:

deductions for the cost of buying, renting, repairing and cleaning the following types of clothing relating to your work as an employee:

- compulsory work uniforms
- non-compulsory work uniforms
- occupation-specific clothing, and
- protective clothing.

You cannot claim for any other type of clothes you wear to work (such as a suit, black trousers, white shirt or jeans) even if your employer tells you to wear them.

You cannot automatically claim a deduction just because you received a clothing or laundry allowance from your employer (question 15); you can only claim for what you actually spent.

Compulsory work uniform

This is a single item or a set of unique or distinctive clothing that identifies you as an employee of an organisation, and it is compulsory for you to wear it while at work.

Clothing is unique if it has been designed and made only for the employer.

Clothing is distinctive if it has the employer's logo permanently attached, and the clothing with the logo is not available to the public.

You may be able to claim for secondary items such as shoes, socks and stockings, but only where they are specified (colour, style) in your employer's compulsory uniform policy.

Non-compulsory work uniform

You can claim for a non-compulsory work uniform only if your employer has registered the design with AusIndustry. Check with your employer (who will be able to find the information at www.ausindustry.gov.au).

Occupation-specific clothing

This is clothing that is specific to your occupation and would allow the public to easily recognise your occupation, for example, the checked pants a chef wears.

Protective clothing

Protective clothing is clothing and items that:

- protect you from the risk of injury or illness while you are working, for example, safety boots, gloves, fire-resistant clothing and sun-protection clothing, or
- you wear at work to protect your ordinary clothes from soiling or damage, for example, overalls, smocks and aprons.

Ordinary clothes such as jeans, drill shirts and shorts, trousers and socks that lack protective qualities designed for the risks of your work are not protective clothing.

WHAT YOU MUST HAVE

You must be able to justify your claim for all the costs of buying, renting, repairing and cleaning your work-related clothing.

For washing, drying and ironing you did yourself, you may work out your claim on the basis of $1 per load (or 50 cents if washed with other clothes).

If your total claim at items 25 and 26 (excluding amounts for overtime meals) is more than $300, you must have written evidence (such as receipts, bank or credit card statements, diary entries and calculations) for the whole amount you are claiming at this item (except for the cleaning component if it was less than $150).

Evidence for these purposes generally needs to be a document or combination of documents from either the supplier or a third party showing the amount spent, the date of payment, the name of the supplier, and a description of the item or services supplied.

Diary entries or other records you have prepared yourself are acceptable as written evidence only if:

- each expense is $10 or less and the total of these expenses is $200 or less, or
- you cannot get a receipt or other supplier or third-party documentation to support your claim.

See page 7 for information about how long you must keep your records.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Work out the total amount of your work-related clothing expenses for 2010–11 and write the total amount at item 25 on your short tax return.

STEP 2

Select the code letter that describes the clothing for which you are claiming the majority of expenses:

Compulsory work uniforms	С
Non-compulsory work uniforms	N
Occupation-specific clothing	S
Protective clothing	Р

STEP 3

Print your code letter at item 25 on your short tax return.

QUESTION 26

Other work-related expenses

This question is about:

deductions for the following work-related costs:

- union fees and subscriptions to associations
- overtime meals
- protective items (other than protective clothing)
- seminars and conferences
- trade publications
- telephone expenses
- any other expenses relating to your work as an employee.

You can only claim for what you actually spent.

This question is NOT about:

the costs of self-education, computers and software, professional libraries, protective clothing items and home office expenses.

STOP

If you wish to claim the costs of self-education, computers and software, professional libraries, and home office expenses, you cannot use the short tax return.

Union fees and subscriptions to associations

You can claim for the cost of union fees and subscriptions to trade, business or professional associations. These may be shown on your payment summary.

You can claim payments of levies to a strike fund only where the fund was used solely to maintain or improve your pay. If you are not sure, check with your union.

Overtime meals

You can claim the cost of overtime meals only if your employer paid an award overtime meal allowance and you showed the allowance at item 15.

You can claim the amount you actually spent. If your claim is more than $25.80 for a meal, you will need written evidence of the claim (receipts or diary entries).

Protective equipment and other items

You can claim the cost of equipment or other items, other than clothing items, that you used to protect yourself from the risk of injury or illness at work, for example, hard hats, safety glasses, other safety equipment, sunscreen and sunglasses.

The cost of protective clothing can be claimed at item 25.

Seminars and conferences

You can claim the cost of attending seminars, conferences or education workshops that were sufficiently connected to your work activities.

Trade publications

You can claim for the cost of trade magazines, technical journals and reference books that are related to your work.

Telephone expenses

You can claim the cost of work-related phone calls on your private telephone. Add up the total of your work-related calls using your phone bill.

You can also claim for your telephone rental if you were 'on call' or you were required to regularly phone your employer or clients while you were away from your workplace. You must apportion the cost of telephone rental between work-related and private use.

Other work-related expenses

You can claim other work-related expenses you paid (such as batteries for calculators, classroom materials and stationery).

WHAT YOU MUST HAVE

You must be able to justify your claim.

If your total claim for items 25 and 26 (excluding amounts for overtime meals) is more than $300, you must have written evidence (such as payment summaries, receipts, phone bills, bank or credit card statements, diary entries and calculations) for the amount you are claiming at this item.

Evidence for these purposes generally needs to be a document or combination of documents from the supplier or a third party showing the amount spent, the date of payment, the name of the supplier, and a description of the item or services supplied.

Diary entries or other records you have prepared yourself are acceptable as written evidence only if:

- the expenses are each $10 or less, and the total of these expenses is $200 or less, or
- you cannot get a receipt or other supplier or third-party documentation to support your claim.

See page 7 for information about how long you must keep your records.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Work out the total amount of your other work-related expenses for 2010–11.

STEP 2

Write this amount at item 26 on your short tax return.

Bank account fees

This question is about:

deductions for account-keeping fees for accounts kept for investment purposes, for example, a cash management account.

This question is NOT about:

first home saver accounts. You cannot claim a deduction for account-keeping fees charged on a first home saver account.

WHAT YOU MUST HAVE

Your bank statement or similar document for each account

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Work out the total amount of your relevant account-keeping fees for 2010–11.

For shared accounts, include only your share of the fees.

STEP 2

Write this amount at item 27 on your short tax return.

QUESTION 28

Gifts and donations of money

This question is about:

deductions for:

- gifts or donations of $2 or more to approved organisations, such as:
 - certain funds, organisations or charities which provide help in Australia
 - some overseas aid funds
 - school building funds
- contributions of $2 or more to
 - a registered political party
 - an independent candidate in an election for parliament
 - an individual who was an independent member of parliament or in limited circumstances was an independent member.

Receipts should state that the gift or donation is tax deductible or that it is made to a deductible gift recipient. If you are in doubt, check with the organisation to which you made the gift or donation.

You can claim only for voluntary donations.

You cannot claim for a donation if you received something for it (for example, a pen, raffle ticket, reduction in school fees or a game of golf).

You can claim for donations to an approved church-run charity, but not to the church itself.

Natural disaster donations

If you made one or more donations of $2 or more to bucket collections conducted by an approved organisation for natural disaster victims, you can claim a tax deduction of up to $10 for the total of those contributions without a receipt. For more information see What's new this year on page 2.

Contributions and gifts to political parties and independent candidates and members

You can claim a deduction for contributions or gifts of $2 or more to registered political parties, independent members of parliament (state or Commonwealth) or independent candidates in an election for parliament.

The political parties must be registered under Commonwealth, state or territory electoral laws.

If the total of all your contributions and gifts to political parties during the year is greater than $1,500 then the maximum amount you can deduct is $1,500. A separate deduction limit of $1,500 applies if the total of all your contributions and gifts to independent candidates or independent members of parliament for the year exceeds $1,500.

An independent member of parliament or candidate cannot be a member of, nor be endorsed by, a registered political party.

This question is NOT about:

- gifts or donations of property (other than money)
- making an election to spread your deduction over five income years or less
- contributions relating to fund-raising events when you receive a minor benefit for your contribution. See Deductions for contributions relating to fund-raising events in Special circumstances and glossary in TaxPack 2011 for more information. You could be eligible to claim for contributions of more than $150.

You cannot use the short tax return if any of the three dot points above applies to you.

WHAT YOU MUST HAVE

Receipts for all your gifts and donations (or your payment summary for any donations you made under a workplace-giving program)

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Work out the total amount of your gifts and donations for 2010–11.

STEP 2

Write this amount at item 28 on your short tax return.

QUESTION 29

Cost of managing your tax affairs

This question is about:

deductions for:

- expenses for managing your tax affairs
- interest charges that we imposed on you
- expenses for complying with any legal obligations relating to another person's tax affairs.

Managing your tax affairs

Expenses for managing your tax affairs may include the cost of:

- stationery items you bought to do your tax preparation and for record keeping
- preparing and lodging your previous tax return using a registered tax agent
- tax reference material you bought
- travel associated with obtaining tax advice
- obtaining tax advice from a recognised tax adviser, that is, from a registered tax agent, barrister or solicitor.

You cannot claim for the cost of tax advice given by someone who is not a recognised tax adviser.

A list of registered tax agents can be found at www.tpb.gov.au or you can check with the Tax Practitioners' Board on 1300 362 829.

Interest charges

You can claim any interest charges that we imposed on you. You cannot claim any penalty or extra tax you had to pay.

Legal obligations

If we asked you to supply information about another person's tax affairs, you can claim the expenses which you incurred in complying with our request.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Work out the total amount of your expenses for managing your tax affairs during 2010–11.

STEP 2

Write this amount at item 29 on your short tax return.

TOTAL DEDUCTIONS

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Check that you have shown all the deductions you can claim.

STEP 2

Add up all deduction amounts and write the total at item 30 on your short tax return.

QUESTION 31

TAXABLE INCOME

WHAT YOU MUST DO

Take total deductions (shown at item 30) away from total income (shown at item 23).

STEP 2

Write the result at item 31 on your short tax return.

QUESTION 32

Dependent spouse, no dependent children

You may be able to claim a dependent spouse tax offset for any period in 2010–11 when all the following applied:

- your adjusted taxable income (ATI) was $150,000 or less
- you lived with your spouse, or you helped your spouse to pay living expenses
- your spouse was an Australian resident for tax purposes
- you and your spouse did not have any dependent children.

For the purposes of the short tax return, ATI is your:

- taxable income (shown at item 31) plus
- adjusted fringe benefits (which are your reportable fringe benefits shown at item 44 multiplied by 0.535, ignoring cents) plus
- reportable employer superannuation contributions (shown at item 45).

A spouse can be of the same or opposite sex (see the definition of spouse on page 49).

The maximum spouse offset you can claim is $2,286.

Spouse's adjusted taxable income (ATI)

The amount you can claim will depend on your spouse's ATI for the period you are claiming. For the purposes of the short tax return, this is the sum of your spouse's taxable income plus adjusted fringe benefits (which are their reportable fringe benefits multiplied by 0.535, ignoring cents).

You cannot use the short tax return if you wish to claim this tax offset and your spouse has any of the following:

- net financial investment losses
- net rental property losses
- reportable employer superannuation contributions
- a deduction claimed for personal superannuation contributions
- target foreign income
- a tax-free pension including a tax-free pension or benefit paid to your spouse under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004
- deductible child maintenance expenditure.

See page 31 for an explanation of these terms.

If you are claiming for the full year, your spouse's ATI for the full year must have been less than $9,426. (This amount reduces if you are claiming for part of the year.)

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Work out the period (or periods) when all the conditions for dependent spouse tax offset applied; this is the period for which you can claim.

STEP 2

If you are claiming for the full year:

- work out your spouse's ATI for 2010–11. This is the sum of their taxable income plus adjusted fringe benefits (which are reportable fringe benefits multiplied by 0.535).
- if your spouse's ATI was more than $282, go to step 3
- if your spouse's ATI was less than or equal to $282, you can claim the full amount of $2,286. Write this amount at item 32 on your short tax return. You have finished this question.

If you are claiming for part of the year:

- work out the number of days in the period (or periods) you are claiming
- then work out your spouse's ATI for the period you are claiming. If you are claiming for more than one period, the ATI you show at step 3 is the total of the ATI for each of the periods you are claiming.

STEP 3

Use the following table to work out your tax offset:

Number of days you are claiming
(The full year is 365 days.)	(a)
Multiply (a) by $6.26 or use $2,286 for the full year.	$ (b)
Your spouse's ATI for the period
(or periods) you are claiming	$ (c)
If the amount at (c) is less than or equal your tax offset is the amount at (b); write at item 32 on your short tax return.
Otherwise, continue working:
Take $282 away from (c).	$ (d)
Divide (d) by 4.	$ (e)
Take (e) away from (b).	$ (f)

If the amount at (f) is $0 or less, you cannot claim a dependent spouse tax offset.

If the amount at (f) is more than $0, that amount is your tax offset for the period; write this amount at item 32 on your short tax return.

If you are claiming this tax offset, you must also complete your spouse's details at items 10 and 46 and complete items 47–50 as applicable.

Senior Australians

- What we call rebate income for you or your spouse is taxable income plus the following amounts if they apply (note that if you have net financial investment losses, rental property losses or deductible personal superannuation contributions you are not able to use the short tax return):
- adjusted fringe benefits (the total reportable fringe benefits amount multiplied by 0.535)
- reportable superannuation contributions (the sum of reportable employer superannuation contributions and deductible personal superannuation contributions)
- net financial investment loss (the amount by which financial investment deductions for the income year exceeded the financial investment income for that year), and
- net rental property loss (the amount by which rental property deductions for the income year exceeded the rental property income for that year).

You are eligible for the senior Australians tax offset if you satisfy all of the following four conditions.

Condition 1

On 30 June 2011 you were:

- a male
 - aged 65 years old or older, or
 - veteran or war widower aged 60 years old or older, who met the veteran pension age test

Or

- a female
 - aged 64 years old or older, or
 - veteran or war widow aged 59 years old or older, who met the veteran pension age test.

Condition 2

Any of the following applied in 2010–11:

■ You did not have a spouse, and your rebate income was less than $48,525.

- You lived apart from your spouse because of ongoing illness, or either of you was in a nursing home at any time during the year, and the combined rebate income* of you and your spouse was less than $91,840.
- You did have a spouse, and the combined rebate income* of you and your spouse was less than $78,992.

The definition of spouse includes same-sex relationships. See the definition of spouse on page 49.

* Combined rebate income includes your spouse's share of any net income of a trust estate to which they are presently entitled and on which the trustee is assessed under section 98 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Condition 3

Any of the following applied at any time in 2010–11:

- You received the age pension from Centrelink, or a pension, allowance or benefit from the Department of Veterans' Affairs (DVA).
- You did not receive or apply for the age pension, but you would satisfy one or more of the following Social Security Act 1991 age pension eligibility tests:
 - the Australian residency test
 - you had a qualifying residence exemption (refugee or special humanitarian program)
 - you received a partner allowance, mature age allowance, widow B pension or widow allowance immediately before turning age-pension age
- you would qualify for the Australian age pension under an international social security agreement.

If you are unsure about these tests, phone Centrelink on 13 23 00.

You were a veteran with eligible war service or a Commonwealth veteran, allied veteran or allied mariner with qualifying service who did not receive a pension, allowance or benefit from Department of Veterans' Affairs (DVA) because you did not make a claim or because of the application of the income test or assets test.

Condition 4

You meet this condition unless you were in jail for the whole of the 2010–11 income year.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

If you satisfy all four conditions, select all the code letters that applied to you at any time in 2010–11:

You were single, widowed or separated.	Α
You and your spouse lived apart because of illness or infirmity and you are both eligible for the senior Australians tax offset.	В
You and your spouse lived apart because of illness or infirmity but your spouse is not eligible for the senior Australians tax offset.	С
You and your spouse lived together and you are both eligible for the senior Australians tax offset.	D
You and your spouse lived together but your spouse is not eligible for the senior Australians tax offset.	E

If only one code letter applied, go to step 2.

If more than one code letter applied, use the first code letter in the list above that applied to you, ex
If both A and B applied, and your spouse's rebate income was less than $18,334, use	В
If both A and C applied, and your spouse received an Australian Government payment listed at question 17 Age pension, age service pension, carer payment and other such Australian Government payments and your spouse's rebate income was less than $22,734, use	С
If both A and D applied, and your spouse's rebate income was less than $12,494, use	D
If both A and E applied, and your spouse received an Australian Government payment listed at question 17 Age pension, age service pension, carer payment and other such Australian Government payments and your spouse's rebate income was less than $15,167, use	E

STEP 2

Write your code letter in the Tax offset code box at N item 33 on your short tax return.

We will work out the amount of your tax offset.

You may not get the senior Australians tax offset even if you meet all the eligibility conditions as the amount of the tax offset is based on your individual income, not your combined income if you have a spouse.

STEP 3

If your spouse or you were a veteran, war widow or war widower, work out your veteran code – select the code letter that applies to you:

You were a veteran, war widow or war widower.	V
Your spouse was a veteran, war widow or war widower.	W
Both V and W apply to you.	Х

Write the code letter in the Veteran code box at Y item 33 on your short tax return.

Pensioner offset

Do not complete this item if you completed item 33. Go to question 35.

This question is about:

tax offset for persons who showed income at item 17 and who do not qualify for the senior Australians tax offset.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Select the code letter that applied to you in 2010–11 at the time you were receiving any of the payments referred to in question 17. The code letter tells us how to work out the amount of your tax offset.

TABLE 1: Pensioner tax offset code letters

While you were receiving an Australian Government pension or allowance listed at question 6 paid to you by:

·	•	, ,
	Centrelink	Veterans' Affairs
and, at any time during 2010-11	:
you were single, widowed or separated, use	S	L
you and your spouse lived together, use	Р	M
you and your spouse 'had to live apart due to illness'* or you lived apart because one of you was in a nursing home, use	I	A ^{* &#}x27;Had to live apart due to illness' refers to situations in which you were paid a pension at a higher rate because you and your spouse did not live together in your home due to illness. If you are not sure, check with Centrelink or the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

If only one code letter applied, go to step 2.

If more than one code letter applied to you, use the following code letter:

■ If both P and I apply to you, use	I
■ If S, P and I all apply to you, use	J
■ If both S and I apply to you, use	J
■ If both S and P apply to you, use	Q
■ If both M and A apply to you, use	Α
■ If L , M and A all apply to you, use	K
■ If both L and A apply to you, use	K
■ If both L and M apply to you, use	R

Go to step 2.

STEP 2

Print your code letter in the Tax offset code box at O item 34 on your short tax return.

STEP 3

If you or your spouse were a veteran, war widow or war widower, select the veteran code letter that applies to you:

You were a veteran, war widow or war widower.	V
Your spouse was a veteran, war widow or war widower.	W
Both V and W apply to you.	X

Print the code letter in the Veteran code box at T item 34 on your short tax return.

STEP 4

If you received reportable fringe benefits or had reportable employer superannuation contributions complete Income tests item 44 and 45.

If both you and your spouse are eligible for the senior Australians tax offset or the pensioner tax offset and your spouse doesn't use it all, the unused portion may be available for transfer to you. We will work out whether you will receive a transfer from the amounts you write in the spouse details section of your short tax return.

Australian superannuation income stream

If you have shown income from an Australian superannuation income stream at item 18, you may be entitled to a tax offset equal to 10% or 15% of all or part of the taxable component of your superannuation income stream benefit.

You are not entitled to a tax offset for the taxed element of any superannuation income stream you received before you turned 55 years old unless the superannuation income stream was either:

- a disability superannuation benefit, or
- a death benefit income stream.

You are not entitled to a tax offset for the untaxed element of any superannuation income stream received before you turned 60 years old unless the superannuation income stream is a death benefit income stream and the deceased died after they turned 60 years old.

For the purposes of this question, a death benefits dependant also includes a person who receives a death benefit income stream that commenced before 1 July 2007.

For more information on the taxation of death benefits paid from super funds as lump sums or income streams to death benefits dependants and others, see Understanding a death benefit paid from a super fund at www.ato.gov.au

If you are not entitled to a tax offset go to question 36.

WHAT YOU NEED

Your PAYG payment summary – superannuation income stream shows whether your superannuation income stream qualifies for a tax offset and the amount of your tax offset. If you cannot find your payment summary, or are not sure whether you can claim a tax offset, contact your superannuation provider.

If your tax offset amount is not shown on your payment summary, you can work it out by multiplying the taxed element and the untaxed element of the taxable component by the relevant percentage shown in table 1 on the next page.

Work out the tax offset for each element and add them together.

If you turned 55 or 60 years old during the 2010–11 income year, a different percentage of tax offset may apply to the superannuation income stream you were receiving before and after your birthday. You can ask your payer what amounts of your superannuation income stream attract a tax offset, or you can use worksheet 1 to work out the amount of your tax offset.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Work out the total amount of your tax offset.

If you are using worksheet 1 use steps (a) to (g) to work out the tax offset for each element of your superannuation income stream. If you received more than one superannuation income stream repeat steps (a) to (g) for each of those income streams.

If you are not using worksheet 1, add up the tax offset amounts shown on each PAYG payment summary – superannuation income stream.

STEP 2

Write the total amount of your tax offset at item 35 on your short tax return. Do not show cents.

TABLE 1: Percentages used to work out your Australian superannuation income stream tax offset

Private health insurance

This question is about:

claiming the private health insurance tax offset for the premium you or your employer paid towards a complying private health insurance policy

- provided by a registered health insurer
- for hospital, general (also known as 'extras') or combined hospital and general cover
- where every person covered by the policy is eligible to claim benefits under the Medicare system. Check with your health insurer if you are unsure.

You cannot use the short tax return if:

- you had more than two private health insurance policies in 2010–11, or
- the statement from your health insurer is based on projected figures, and the amounts actually paid by you differ from the amounts projected.

Check the statements from the health insurers you paid premiums to. If the amounts at G on your statements are $0, you have already received your full entitlement and you do not need to complete this item. Go to question 37.

If you have an amount greater than $0 at G, read on.

Claiming the tax offset

The tax offset can be claimed as:

- a reduction in your health insurance premium
- cash or a cheque from Medicare
- a refundable tax offset at the end of the income year, or
- a combination of all these options, each for a different period.

WHAT YOU MUST HAVE

- You need a private health insurance statement from your health insurer. If you did not receive a statement, you should contact your health insurer and request one. If you were covered by a second health insurer during the year, you should have a statement from that health insurer.
- You need the total amount of cash or cheque payments you have received from Medicare for your private health insurance premium for 2010–11.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Add up all the amounts shown at G on your statements.

STEP 2

Deduct any cash or cheque rebates you received from Medicare for your private health insurance premiums.

STEP 3

If the result from step 2 is $0 or a negative amount, you have already received your full entitlement.

If the result from step 2 is greater than $0, write that amount at G item T5.

If you and another person made payments for the same policy (for example, from a joint bank account) you can each claim the proportion of the amount you worked out at step 2 that reflects the amount of the premiums that you paid.

36 www.ato.gov.au SHORT TAX RETURN INSTRUCTIONS 2011

Zone (remote area)

You may claim a tax offset if you lived or worked in one of the zones (zone A, zone B or a special area) specified on pages 37–8 for a total of 183 days or more in 2010–11.

The 183 days do not have to be continuous.

You cannot use the short tax return if you wish to claim the zone offset:

- for living or working in more than one zone during 2010–11
- using qualifying days from previous years
- for service overseas as a member of the Australian Defence Force or a United Nations armed force
- if you have dependents (this includes your spouse).

You cannot claim a zone tax offset for working on an offshore oil or gas rig.

Who can you claim for?

You may be able to claim amounts for yourself.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

Determine your offset amount, if any, using the table below.

Category	Tax offset amount
Single with no dependants for all of 2010–11	Special area	$1,173
	Zone A	$338
	Zone B	$57

At item 37 on your short tax return write your tax offset amount less any remote area allowance* you received. You have finished this question.

Localities for zone tax offset

Locations that are within 250 kilometres of the localities marked with an asterisk (*) are also in the relevant zone.

Other less well-known isolated locations may be in a zone or special area. You can check if your location is in a zone by phoning 13 28 61.

TOTAL TAX OFFSETS

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Check that you have shown all the tax offsets you can claim.

STEP 2

Add up all the tax offset amounts, and write the total at item 38 on your short tax return.

MEDICARE LEVY

Medicare is the scheme which gives Australian residents access to health care.

To help fund the scheme, resident taxpayers are subject to a Medicare levy (normally 1.5% of taxable income). The amount you have to pay will be calculated automatically.

In some cases, you may be entitled to a Medicare levy reduction or exemption, or you may have to pay more (a surcharge). Questions 39, 40 and 41 deal with these situations.

Medicare levy reduction (question 39); you may be entitled to this if you are a low income earner.

Medicare levy exemption (question 40); you may be entitled to this for periods you were in an exemption category.

Medicare levy surcharge (MLS) (question 41); if your income for MLS purposes or in some circumstances your combined income for MLS purposes was above certain limits, you may have to pay the surcharge for any periods you or your dependants did not have an appropriate level of private patient hospital cover.

The Medicare levy surcharge is in addition to the normal Medicare levy and is calculated at 1% of your

- taxable income.
- total reportable fringe benefits, and
- any amount on which family trust distribution tax has been paid.

Question 41 is COMPULSORY. If you do not answer it, you may be charged the full Medicare levy surcharge.

Refer to pages 39–45 when completing the Medicare levy items on the short tax return.

Medicare levy reduction

Low income earners may be eligible for a Medicare levy reduction. If you are a low income earner, we will work out any reduction to which you are entitled from the information you provide on your short tax return.

You need to complete this item only if you have a spouse or dependent children, and either your taxable income or your family taxable income is below the relevant limits shown in the next column.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

If you had a spouse on 30 June 2011 or your spouse died during the year, you must write your spouse's taxable income at item 46. If your spouse had no taxable income, write 0. For the definition of spouse, see page 49.

STEP 2 – Working out your number of dependent children

A dependent child is any child who was an Australian resident whom you maintained in 2010–11 and was:

- less than 21 years old, or
- 21 to 24 years old who was receiving full-time education at a school, college or university and whose adjusted taxable income (ATI, see page 29) was less than $282 plus $28.92 for each week you maintained them.

Count all your dependent children if:

- you had a spouse on 30 June 2011, or
- your spouse died during 2010–11 and you did not have another spouse during the rest of the year.

Otherwise, if you were single or separated on 30 June 2011, then count only those dependent children for whom you were eligible, at any time during 2010–11, for:

- family tax benefit (FTB) Part A, or
- the rental assistance component of FTB Part A.

STEP 3

Write the number of your dependent children at item 39 on your short tax return. If none, write 0.

For your information:

The Medicare levy reduction is first worked out on your taxable income. Your Medicare levy may be reduced if your taxable income is not more than the following limit:

Your taxable income limits
If you are eligible* for the senior Australians tax offset (question 33)	$36,100
If you are eligible for the pensioner tax offset (question 34)	$35,810#
All other taxpayers	$22,163#

- * Even though you might meet all the eligibility conditions for the senior Australians tax offset you may not get it, as the amount of the tax offset is based on your individual taxable income, not your combined taxable income if you have a spouse. If you do not get it, you will not get a Medicare levy reduction.
- # At the time of printing these instructions this amount had not become law.

If you had a spouse or a dependent child, and you are not eligible for a reduction based on your taxable income, the Medicare levy reduction is then worked out on your family taxable income (the combined taxable incomes of you and your spouse, or your taxable income if you were a sole parent). Your Medicare levy may be reduced if your family taxable income is not more than the following limit:

Family taxable income limit
If you are eligible for the senior Australians tax offset (question 33)	$52,352*
All other taxpayers	$37,398*#
*plus $3,434# for each dependent child

At the time of printing these instructions this amount had not become law.

40 www.ato.gov.au SHORT TAX RETURN INSTRUCTIONS 2011

Medicare levy exemption

You may qualify for an exemption from paying the Medicare levy if you were in any of the following exemption categories at any time in 2010-11.

STOP

You cannot use the short tax return if you are claiming Medicare levy exemption and you have a dependent child or student (see definition in the first NOTE box in the next column) for whom you are in a shared-care arrangement.

Category 1: Medical

- You were a blind pensioner.
- You received sickness allowance from Centrelink.
- You were entitled to full free medical treatment for all conditions under defence force arrangements or Veterans' Affairs Repatriation Health Card (Gold Card) or repatriation arrangements.

Category 2: Resident of Norfolk Island

Category 3: Not entitled to Medicare benefits

You must have a certificate from the Medicare Levy Exemption Certification Unit of Medicare Australia showing that you were not entitled to Medicare benefits because you were a temporary resident for Medicare purposes (a letter from Medicare is not sufficient).

If you were not in any of the above exemption categories, leave this item blank. You have finished this question.

If you were in one of the exemption categories, read on.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

STEP 1

Use the information on this page and the next to work out whether you qualify for a full exemption, a half exemption or no exemption.

NOTE

A dependent child is any child who was an Australian resident whom you maintained in 2010-11 and was:

- under 21 years old, or
- 21 to 24 years old who was receiving full-time education at a school, college or university and whose adjusted taxable income (ATI, see page 29) was less than $282 plus $28.92 for each week you maintained them.

For the definition of spouse, see page 49.

STEP 2

If you do qualify for an exemption, work out the number of days for which you can claim a full exemption and the number of days for which you can claim a half exemption.

NOTE

- The year is 365 days.
- Each day can only be counted once. If you have overlapping qualifying periods, count the days in those overlapping periods only once.

STEP 3

Write the number of days in the appropriate boxes at item 41 on your short tax return.

Leave the code box blank unless you have a certificate from the Medicare Levy Exemption Certification Unit because you were a temporary resident for Medicare purposes (see category 3 on page 43). If you were a temporary resident for Medicare purposes and have a certificate, print C in the code box.

We will work out the amount of exemption you are entitled to.

Category 1: Medical

If you were in the medical category for any period in 2010-11 and you met one of the following conditions, you qualify for a full or half exemption.

If you did not have a spouse or a dependent child, then you can claim full exemption for that period.

If you did not have a spouse but you had a dependent child who:

- was not in an exemption category, and
- did not have to pay the Medicare levy (for example, because of low income)

then you can claim half exemption for that period.

If you had a spouse who had to pay the Medicare levy and you had dependent children who:

- were not in an exemption category, and
- were dependent on both of you

then you can claim full exemption for that period.

If you had a spouse and/or dependent children and each of them:

- was in an exemption category, or
- had to pay the Medicare levy

then you can claim full exemption for that period.

If you had a spouse or a dependent child who:

- was not in an exemption category, and
- did not have to pay the Medicare levy (for example, because of low income)

then you can claim half exemption for that period.

If you had a spouse who is also in this medical category and you had a dependent child who:

- was not in an exemption category, and
- was dependent on both of you

then either you or your spouse can claim full exemption for that period, and the other can claim half exemption for that period.

You will have to decide who claims the full exemption (usually the higher income earner) and who claims the half exemption, then complete and keep the Family agreement in the next column.

FAMILY AGREEMENT

We agree that the Medicare levy exemption in respect of our dependants for the 2010–11 year will be claimed as follows:

NAME OF PERSON CLAIMING FULL EXEMPTION

NAME OF PERSON CLAIMING HALF EXEMPTION

YOUR SIGNATURE

YOUR SPOUSE'S SIGNATURE

Category 2: Resident of Norfolk Island

If you were a resident of Norfolk Island for the full year, then you can claim full exemption for the year (365 days).

If you were a resident of Norfolk Island for only part of the year and

- you did not have a spouse or a dependent child for that period, or
- your spouse and all your dependants were in an exemption category for that period

then you can claim full exemption for that period that you were a resident of Norfolk Island.

Category 3: Not entitled to Medicare benefits

If you were officially not entitled to Medicare benefits for any period of 2010–11 and

- you have a certificate from the Medicare Levy Exemption Certification Unit of Medicare Australia because you were a temporary resident for Medicare purposes, and either
- you did not have a spouse or a dependent child for that period, or
- your spouse and all your dependants were in an exemption category for that period

then you can claim full exemption for that period that you were not entitled to Medicare benefits.

For more information on how to apply for an exemption certificate as a temporary resident, contact Medicare Australia on 1300 300 271 or visit their website at www.medicareaustralia.gov.au

QUESTION 41

THIS QUESTION IS COMPULSORY FOR ALL TAXPAYERS.

Your 'spouse' includes another person (whether of the same sex or opposite sex) who:

- you were in a relationship with that was registered under a prescribed state or territory law,
- although not legally married to you, lived with you on a genuine domestic basis in a relationship as a couple.

Medicare levy surcharge

You may have to pay Medicare levy surcharge (MLS) if you or your dependants (including your spouse, even if they had their own income) did not have an appropriate level of private patient hospital cover for the whole of 2010–11 and your income was above a certain amount.

An appropriate level of private patient hospital cover is cover provided by a registered health insurer for hospital treatment in Australia which has an excess of:

- $500 or less (for a policy covering only one person), or
- $1,000 or less (for all other policies).

Excess is the amount you pay before your health insurer pays for any claim you make.

General cover (formerly called ancillary cover) or 'extras' is not private patient hospital cover because it only covers items such as optical, dental, physiotherapy or chiropractic treatment.

Dependants

For this question, a dependant (regardless of their income) includes:

- your spouse, even if they worked during 2010–11 or had their own income
- your children under 21 years old
- your children, who are 21 years old or older and under 25 years old, who are full-time students.

Dependents must have been Australian residents and you must have contributed to their maintenance.

The definition of child includes children of people who are in same-sex relationships. See the definition of child on page 41.

STOP

You cannot use the short tax return if you have to pay MLS for the sole reason that your spouse has shown on their tax return (supplementary section) a lump sum payment in arrears at item 20 Foreign source income and foreign assets or property or at item 24 Other income. In that instance, you may be entitled to a tax offset up to the amount of MLS you have to pay.

WHAT YOU SHOULD HAVE

A statement from your health insurer which covers you for private hospital cover showing the number of days covered by an appropriate level of health cover

If you do not have this statement, contact your health insurer.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

Use the following steps to work out what you must write at this item.

STEP 1

Item 41 on your short tax return asks 'Did you and all your dependants (including your spouse) have an appropriate level of private patient hospital cover for all of 2010–11?'

Print X in the Yes or No box at E.

If yes, you do not have to pay MLS. You have finished this question.

If no, go to step 2.

STEP 2

Whether you have to pay MLS depends on:

- your income for MLS purposes, and
- your combined income for MLS purposes, if you had a spouse for the whole of 2010–11.

Use the following worksheets to work out your income for MLS purposes and your combined income for MLS purposes, and then go to step 3.

Your income for MLS purposes

Your taxable income (item 31)	$	(a)
Your total reportable fringe benefits (item 44)	$	(b)
Your reportable employer		(6)
superannuation contributions (item 45)		(c)
Add (a), (b) and (c). The amount at (d) is your income for ML		(d)
The amount at (d) is your income for ML	o purposes.

Your combined income for MLS purposes

rour combined income for MLS purp	oses
Your income from (d) above	$	(e)
Your spouse's taxable income (item 31 on their short tax return or from page 3 of their tax return for individuals)	$	(f)

Your spouse's share of trust income on which the trustee was assessed under section 98 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 and which has not been included in your spouse's taxable income (which you also show	Ψ	(g)
at T item 48 on your short tax return) Distributions to your spouse on which family trust distribution tax has been paid, and your spouse would have had to show the distribution as assessable income if the tax had not been paid (which you also show at U item 49 on your short tax return or at X item A4 on your spouse's tax return	$	(h)
for individuals supplementary section)	$	(i)
Add (e), (f), (g), (h) and (i).	$	(j)
The amount at (j) is your combined income for MLS purposes.

STEP 3

1 Work out whether you were in one or more of the following categories for the whole of 2010–11:

Your income for MLS purposes was $77,000 or less and you were single without a dependent child for the whole of 2010–11.

You were single with a dependent child and your income for MLS purposes was $154,000 or less (plus $1,500 for each dependent child after the first).

You had a spouse* (with or without dependent children), and your combined income for MLS purposes was $154,000 or less (plus $1,500 for each dependent child after the first).

You and all your dependants (including your spouse, if any) were in a Medicare levy exemption category (question 40).

The combined income of you and your spouse for MLS purposes was above the limit, but your own income for MLS purposes was equal to or less than $18,839.

- * If your spouse died in 2010–11 and you did not have another before the end of the year, you are treated as having a spouse for the remainder of 2010–11.
- 2 If you were in one or more of the above categories for the whole of 2010–11 write 365 at A item 41 on your short tax return. You do not have to pay MLS. You have finished this question.

If you were in one or more of the above categories for only part of 2010–11, go to step 4 in the next column.

STEP 4

You may have to pay MLS.

- 1 For 2010–11, work out the number of days you do not have to pay MLS. This is:
 - (a) the number of days you and all your dependants (including your spouse, if any) either
 - had an appropriate level of private patient hospital cover, or
 - were in a Medicare levy exemption category (from item 40)

plus

- (b) the number of days, not already counted in (a), that you had a spouse or dependent child, if
- for part of 2010–11 you were single without a dependent child and
- during the balance of the year you had a spouse (and your spouse, if you had one, did not die during the year) and/or a dependent child and
- your income for MLS purposes was less than $154,000 (plus $1,500 for each dependent child after the first).

Write the total number of days you do not have to pay MLS at A item 41 on your short tax return.

Write the number of your dependent children at D item 41 on your short tax return.

We will work out any MLS you have to pay.

OUESTION 42

At this item, give details of the private health insurance policies which covered you in 2010-11 (even if the policies did not include hospital cover).

STOP

If you had more than two private health insurance policies during the year, you cannot use the short tax return.

WHAT YOU SHOULD HAVE

Statements from the registered health insurers which covered you. These statements should have the details you need to be able to complete this item.

If you do not have a statement, contact your health insurer.

NOTE

You can download your private health insurance details online at any time using the pre-filling service in e-tax. Go to www.ato.gov.au/etaxprefilling

46 SHORT TAX RETURN INSTRUCTIONS 2011 www.ato.gov.au

STEP 2

QUESTION 44

Total reportable fringe benefits amounts

This question is about:

fringe benefits that you received in 2010–11, such as the use of a company car or reimbursement of your expenses.

Certain fringe benefits are reportable. Your payment summary should show the reportable fringe benefits amount.

The reportable fringe benefits amount is not counted as part of your total income, and you do not pay income tax on it. However, it is used to work out your entitlement to or liability for:

- Medicare levy surcharge
- deductions for personal superannuation contributions
- super co-contributions
- certain tax offsets
- compulsory Higher Education Loan Program (HELP) repayments
- compulsory Student Financial Supplement Scheme (SFSS) repayments
- child support obligations

Keep all the original payment summaries with your tax records. Do not attach them to your tax return.

Reportable employer superannuation contributions

This question is about:

superannuation contributions made by your employer for your benefit.

Reportable employer superannuation contributions are additional to the compulsory contributions your employer must make. An example of a reportable employer superannuation contribution is a contribution made on your behalf under a salary sacrifice arrangement. For more information go to www.ato.gov.au and enter 'Guide for employees and self employed – Reportable super contributions' in the 'Search for' box at the top of the page.

WHAT YOU NEED

Your payment summary from each employer

If your payment summary shows a reportable employer superannuation contributions amount and you did not get your employer to make superannuation contributions in addition to their compulsory superannuation contributions, you should contact your employer before lodging your return to check that the payment summary figure is correct.

If your employer has incorrectly calculated the reportable employer superannuation contributions amount, ask them to provide you with a revised payment summary showing the correct amount.

WHAT YOU MUST DO

Using the information on your payment summaries, add all the amounts shown as reportable employer superannuation contributions, and write the total at T item 45 on your short tax return.

Keep all the original payment summaries with your tax records. Do not attach them to your tax return.
